1. Membership Requirements

The Charter states that ISTOG membership consists of representatives from companies who operate nuclear power plants and who perform Inservice Testing duties as a profession. We encourage participation from all those involved in providing IST services to help us improve and become a proactive owners group. As such, non-utility companies (e.g., consultants, vendors) that provide support directly related to IST activities (e.g.; develop, update and maintain IST Programs; engineering evaluations; problem resolution) can become ISTOG members subject to the limitations stated throughout this procedure.

The following additional practices will apply:

1.1. There are two types of ISTOG members:

1.1.1. Member Organizations: Utility (fleet or plant site), Non-utility (vendors of IST related services), Regulator, and Foreign (includes non-US utilities and regulators).

1.1.2. Individual Members: Employees of Member Organizations designated to participate in ISTOG activities including, but not limited to, the Annual ISTOG meeting, ISTOG email question/answers, members only section of ISTOG website, and ISTOG supported self-assessments. There is no limit on designated Individual Members per Member Organization

1.2. Membership in the Inservice Testing Owners Group (ISTOG) is contingent on payment of an annual fee as determined by the Steering Committee each year. The annual membership fee structure shall include pricing for each type of Member Organization.

- 1.3. An ISTOG membership list will be maintained on the ISTOG web site and will consist of those Member Organizations whose fees are current and their associated Individual Members.
- 1.4. Annual fees may be waived for any member at the discretion and vote of the Steering Committee. Typically, the ISTOG Steering Committee has waived meeting fees for foreign owners (who are not full members) due to their increased travel costs, and for both domestic and foreign regulatory agencies to encourage their participation.
- 1.5. Individual Members representing Utility Member Organizations are the only persons permitted to:
 - 1.5.1. Hold the position of a Steering Committee Officer such as, Chair, Vice Chair, or Treasurer;
 - 1.5.2. Hold the position of a Steering Committee Member or Alternate; and
 - 1.5.3. Participate in the utility-only segments of the annual meeting.

2. Voting

Elections required by the Charter and any other voting by Task Groups, Steering Committee, or the ISTOG membership will be subject to the following practices:

- 2.1. General
 - 2.1.1. Only Member Organizations that are in good standing (paid current membership) shall have voting rights. Member Organizations whose membership fees have been waived by the Steering Committee (e.g., Regulator, Foreign Utilities) do not have voting rights.
 - 2.1.2. Each Utility organization has one vote for each plant site in good standing (paid current membership) up to a maximum of six votes for the organization.

Inservice Testing Owners' Group

- 2.1.3. Each Non-Utility organization in good standing (paid membership) has one vote for the organization.
- 2.1.4. Each Member Organization is responsible for designating a representative Individual Member to cast each eligible vote. Utility members with more than one plant site may designate different Individual Members for each eligible vote or one Individual Member for all eligible votes.
- 2.1.5. All members shall be aware of any potential conflict of interest issues and remove themselves from any votes on the issue. Questionable conflict of interest issues should be identified to the ISTOG Steering Committee. The Steering Committee will determine by simple majority whether to accept or reject voting on such issues.
- 2.2. A quorum is required for all voting to be considered official results. A quorum is met when at least half of all available votes have been cast.
- 2.3. A two-thirds majority of those votes cast is required for revision to the ISTOG Charter or administrative procedures.
- 2.4. ISTOG Products – A two-thirds majority of those votes cast is required for the approval of such items as ISTOG technical papers, additional funding beyond administrative fees, and recommendations for regulatory or ASME Code changes.
- 2.5. Elections – A simple majority of those votes cast is required for selection of Steering Committee members and Alternates at a meeting designated for elections. Steering Committee Officers (Chair, Vice Chair, and Treasurer) serve a two-year term. The Steering Committee Members and Alternates serve a three-year term. This is done to provide some overlap and balance for the Steering Committee.
 - 2.5.1 The Steering Committee may elect to extend the term of either the Officers or the Steering Committee membership, as necessary to maintain this overlap and balance for the Steering Committee.
